

Barkev S. Trachian, Ph.D.
Director of the Graduate School
Piedmont Baptist College and Graduate School

This book is written with a kind Christian spirit, while maintaining research integrity, factual accuracy, and historical objectivity. It reflects a sincere desire to preserve the true doctrine of inspiration. It is balanced, thorough, and clear. Both the seminary educated scholar and the layman will find the systematic presentation of facts, supported by complete documentation, informative and useful. The wealth of information in the appendices is very valuable. Our students can benefit much from it.